Is J.R. really dead???

Well...who knows? We completed the filming of the MOW, "DALLAS" for CBS on the 28th of March. Apparently it turned out so well, they decided to kick off the fall season with the show. Three more promos will appear on Entertainment Tonight shortly before "DALLAS" airs, so watch for those promos and schedules. If you were a fan of the series, don't miss this one. As a side note, Chris is into radio full time. He works in the operations department of a five-station chain in Cleveland, Mississippi. The film industry has lost a good boomer.

Here we are on wrap day of DALLAS. Chris, Marcia, and I cheated death one more time.

High tech addresses...

Well, they keep expanding. As a refresher, here are my current Web and Email sites. The home pages are always in transition. By the time you receive this mailer, there will be a new update. Check them out!

Teachin' it here boss...

I was invited to give an audio seminar at Texas Christian University on April 3rd. I presented a program on location sound for film and video. Students from the radio and TV classes were in attendance. I spoke to the radio classes last year on microphones and techniques. Mr. Sam Bogart, who teaches radio production, was my host.

Got a million of em...

There are two things I never mess with....
Electricity and old church women

It's almost pointless to shoot it without film.

You look a lot like yourself too.

All he's gotta do is throw the tumbleweed.

I can burn ants with my glasses.

Wait a minute....I'm becoming manly.

Hold a pear...they're warm.

Working...but available...

March and April have been busy months. I am still consulting on three projects. I have worked on two videos with Dick Baker directing and Tedd Kidd of Reeves/Kidd Media producing. Our Texas locations included Dallas, Huntsville, Laredo, Abilene, and Celeste. A project for KERA television and a PSA starring Governor Bush and Wishbone round out most of my recent shoots. Phone still works....give me a call.
