Cook Childrens...

Guillaume Garrigue, on the left, of agent 485, with the clients, watching a playback on one of the new spots.

Pizza Hut Time...

Working with David and Katherine Seay of David Seay Productions, Inc., shooting a new training video for Pizza Hut. We were in the restaurant at YUM headquarters in Plano, TX.

To blog...or not to blog...

I'm giving some thought to a blog linked to my facebook page. I am irritated by so much bad sound in productions these days. I know many of the reasons and wonder if some comments and suggestions in this format would be helpful to newbies, producers, or whomever. What do you think? Drop me an email if you care to take the time and express your thoughts.

MODULATIONS....Archives

Check out my web site for some older copies of MODULATIONS. I have had a lot of folks express an interest in reading some of the past issues. Here's a link.

Fractured Fibia.....blah...blah...blah...

Some of you saw this on FB. I got a small fracture, but it's healing already. It is associated with a sprain I suffered on December 23rd. I am getting around fine, but the device is a pain in the a$$$. Should get it removed in a couple of weeks. Yea!

Down memory lane...

This still dates back to 1968. It's a shot of Bob Redd and me on the set of Larry Buchanan's "It's Alive". Thanks to Danny Redd for the picture. More on this at the Dallas Producer Association's February showcase. Check out their web site.

Phone still works. Give me a call if I can help.
